Nineteen per cent of the people here are in debt to the Credit. But we all know the story of the nine and nine that were safely watching until he found the one who was really caught in the throat, and I am afraid we will have to do the same.

We are all patiently awaiting the smiling face of old Sam to break through the snow this season.

Keep up the good work, my Social Credit boys. They mean write in rhyme for the papers each day.

For you know we believe in boosting the cause. Or a eastern we know to be without flaws.

And of course now it is of Social Credit I speak. You can examine it closely and not find a point weak.

For each line is forced to stand the great strain. Of the opposition's wit and again.

And thanks to Mr. Aberhart for perfecting the plan. But we all must do just as much as we can.

To provide us all with food, shelter and clothes— And just how badly we need them the Lord will know.

We have had our innings and winter is fast approaching. Mr. Kitzner had made friends wherever he went and the boys of the district took a great delight in him as their chief scout.

He organized the Boy Scouts when he came in and it's a pleasure to announce that the Scout work will be carried on by Mr. Fernat, the schoolmaster in charge of the Idson Trail school.

Mr. Fernat hails from Calgary and is winning the confidence of his pupils. He will be assisted in his work by Mr. Bill Turner and the meeting place will be the Legion club-house, just opposite the school. Time of meetings and other details in connection will be announced later.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE

The first Thanksgiving service was held on Sunday, September 24, at 3 p.m., in the United Church, Delbert. The church took on a new appearance, as it was decorated on Saturday. There was a display of wheat, oats, cabbage, potatoes, vegetable marrow, evergreen and hops, all of which added to the transformation. The service was held as far as seating capacity went, and many had to stand.

Mr. Kitzner was assisted by the Rev. Mr. Nolan, who read the first lesson.

Before commencing on his sermon Mr. Kitzner said he wished to thank the people of Delbert and district for their kindness to him while laboring amongst them.

Before closing his remarks he read a portion of a letter he had received from a former student minister of Delbert, Mr. Warren Langille, saying how much he had enjoyed his term amongst the people and bespoke for him the same kindness and sympathy.

Mr. Kitzner said he must have visited 150 homes and he realized that Mr. Langille was loved by the people, for all had nothing but good to say of him. Mr. Kitzner said that Mr. Langille was to have graduated a few years ago, and his sickness came as a great disappointment to him. His letter was one of real thanksgiving, day by day and God and his friends were good to him.

His congregation were honored by having Mrs. B. T. Malcolm and Miss Joan Johnston of Chilliwack now in the district.

SAVE 212 AS SHIPS CRASH IN BLINDING FOG

One of the most thrilling maritime rescues in recent history was accomplished when 212 passengers were saved from the steamer Romance after she had been rammed by the steamer New York during a dense fog off the Boston coast. The steel prow of the New York knifed the ancient excursion steamer about ten miles offshore and set it to the bottom within twenty minutes.

"KING BESSIE" CAPTURES CHAMPIONSHIPS WITHOUT EFFORT

The kindly beast above is not turning up his nose with contempt, but merely expressing his auto cratic breeding. King Bessie Omaha Pietertje 37th captured Senior and Grand Championships at Ottawa, Canadian National Exhibition and London last year, and this year he is doing his best to repeat. With the Ottawa championships already tucked away, he has just won the Senior and Grand Champion titles at the Canadian National Exhibition. This remarkable Holstein is owned by Hon. George S. Henry, former Prime Minister of Ontario.

CANADIAN PADDLERS RETURN WITH OLYMPIC LAURELS

First, second and third in their events, are the records made by these three Canadian paddlers at the Berlin Olympics. They were photographed as they arrived at Montreal on the Canadian Pacific liner "Montclair". They are, left to right, Frank Amyot, singles paddler who won Canada's only Olympic title, and W. Baker and H. Chivers, who finished second in the 10,000 metres Canadian doubles and third in the 1,000 metres events.

CINCINNATI OUTFIELDER MAKES AMAZING COME-BACK

Stricken early in the season with spinal meningitis, Bruce Campbell of Cincinnati was not considered a chance to recover, much less play ball again. He not only pulled through but started back with the ball team, hitting at a tremendous clip. He is playing good ball and confounding the medical profession.

STALIN AND LIKELY SUCCESSOR

Joseph Stalin, dictator of Soviet Russia, is shown, left, with Klement Voroshilov, war commissar, who, it is reported, would succeed Stalin in the event of the latter's death. It has been officially denied, however, that Stalin is mortally ill, and that Voroshilov is preparing to step into his office. Stalin is reported in excellent health.

A DOUBLE CHASTENING

Two new parishioners were admitted to St. Joseph's Church on Sunday last, when the infant sons of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Miller and Mr. and Mrs. "Buster" Murphy received their baptismal names of Donald Ivan and Michael Kevin, respectively. Mr. and Mrs. P. Hickman were the latter's godparents, while that honor was conferred on Mrs. M. P. Storm and Mr. J. McFarlane for tiny Donald Ivan Miller.

IN ASSAM

The following is an extract from a letter from Shillong: "The name

Shillong really belongs to the Peak, the summit of which, on a clear day, affords one of the most extensive views in the world. The Khast name for the Peak is Lamm Shillong, and the story is that a Khasi named Shillong saw a god, Dima, on the hill and he called it 'the place where Shillong and god appeared.' This name was changed to Shillong Peak.

We passed the house of a pretty Khasi rajah and madam told us that the Khasi custom is to preserve the body of a rajah in honey until his successor dies, when the new corpse is preserved and the old honeyed one is cremated.

LIFE BEGINS AT—

(Viscount Castlerosse, in his "London Letter" column in the London Daily Express, offers a few inspiring examples of what men have accomplished in their old age.)

A director of the Bank of England told me yesterday that it was his firm belief that men should retire from business at the age of 45. "We have a great many too many dotards in the trade of England today," he said.

"This argument, no doubt, has a great deal to be said for it, but I have just lately been reading the 'Golden Rule' which points out:—

"Between the ages of 70 and 83 Commodore Vanderbilt added about £200,000 to his fortune.

"Kant at 74 wrote his 'Anthropology' and 'Metaphysics of Ethics' and 'Stirne of the Faculties.

"Faintorato at 74 produced the vast 'Paradise' a canvas 74 feet by 30. Verdi at 74 produced his masterpiece, 'Otello,' at 80, 'Falstaff,' and at 85, the famous Ave Maria, 'Stabat Mater' and 'Te Deum.'"

BEAVER LODGE OLDTIMERS

REVISITING THEIR OLD HOME

BEAVER LODGE, Sept. 22.—Two Beaver Lodge oldtimers, who left here twenty years ago, are revisiting their old home and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McNeil, pioneer settlers of Beaver Lodge.

The parties referred to are Mrs. H. M. Ching and her brother, Wesley McNeil, of Coramach, Sask. The party motored through from Lethbridge, and Mrs. Ching was accompanied by her husband and two daughters, Dorothy and Patricia.

They report a very enjoyable trip and stressed the fact that, although warned about "that terrible highway along Slave Lake," they experienced no difficulty in negotiating it. In fact, they said, they rather enjoyed the novelty of the transport by snow. They will visit here another couple of weeks before returning home.

REORGANIZATION SALE

Launches Gigantic Sale Preparatory To Joining National Group

Elsewhere in this issue will be found an announcement of a re-organization sale that will be of real interest to every family within miles of Wembley. Mr. Kranz, owner of Kranz Store, states that he is sacrificing several thousand dollars' worth of surplus stocks and odd lot merchandise at real bargain prices, preparatory to modernizing.

This announcement comes in connection with word that Mr. Kranz has joined the Retailer Co-operative Alliance, a group of home-owned dry goods and general stores to gain advantages in buying and promotion in order to give better value to the people of Wembley and district.

In order to make room for his new merchandise, Mr. Kranz says that he intends to clear all old stocks regardless of cost.

"Ahi! Must— Designer infinite!— Ahi! Must Thou char the wood of Linn with it?"

As it is impossible for an artist to sketch with wood that has not been prepared by burning, so Christ, when He desires to pass a masterpiece on the canvas of our souls, prepares our hearts by a purifying process of suffering and sacrifice so that He might have worthy tools for His great work.

And, as the quality of the charcoal depends on the extent of its burning—the slow, depth-penetrating length of the process—so the work of Christ depends on the extent of our suffering and sacrifice so that He might have worthy tools for His great work.

Hourly, the world over, such canvases are being spread out, and, hopefully, the charcoal taken up to begin the work of the artist.

Twice lately we have been privileged to see the fine acceptance of the prophecies of the Bible, which I refer to the recent death of two dearly loved young girls.

Edith Crosby and Helen Bates loved Christ. He is with our hearts. He is painting something very beautiful and everlasting.

The regular meeting of the Grande Prairie Women's Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. A. R. Hillman on Thursday, October 1, at 8 p.m.

BEAVER LODGE OLDTIMERS

REVISITING THEIR OLD HOME

BEAVER LODGE, Sept. 22.—Two Beaver Lodge oldtimers, who left here twenty years ago, are revisiting their old home and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McNeil, pioneer settlers of Beaver Lodge.

The parties referred to are Mrs. H. M. Ching and her brother, Wesley McNeil, of Coramach, Sask. The party motored through from Lethbridge, and Mrs. Ching was accompanied by her husband and two daughters, Dorothy and Patricia.

They report a very enjoyable trip and stressed the fact that, although warned about "that terrible highway along Slave Lake," they experienced no difficulty in negotiating it. In fact, they said, they rather enjoyed the novelty of the transport by snow. They will visit here another couple of weeks before returning home.

KRANZ STORE STAGES

REORGANIZATION SALE

Launches Gigantic Sale Preparatory To Joining National Group

Elsewhere in this issue will be found an announcement of a re-organization sale that will be of real interest to every family within miles of Wembley. Mr. Kranz, owner of Kranz Store, states that he is sacrificing several thousand dollars' worth of surplus stocks and odd lot merchandise at real bargain prices, preparatory to modernizing.

This announcement comes in connection with word that Mr. Kranz has joined the Retailer Co-operative Alliance, a group of home-owned dry goods and general stores to gain advantages in buying and promotion in order to give better value to the people of Wembley and district.

In order to make room for his new merchandise, Mr. Kranz says that he intends to clear all old stocks regardless of cost.
